EY Foundation
Impact Report 2018/19
The EY Foundation helps young people facing barriers to entering the workplace and supports social entrepreneurs scale up sustainably. Our deep understanding of both sides of the labour market means our programmes successfully bridge the gap between young people and employers.
Welcome

This is our review of the EY Foundation’s impact over the past year. Supporting over 4000 young people and social entrepreneurs from July 2018 to June 2019, the theme throughout is increased impact, both in terms of total numbers and the depth of change we achieved.

Connecting young people and employers, collaboration runs through everything we do. From the launch of a primary school pilot with the North East Local Enterprise Partnership, to new partnerships with employers and grant funders, we are building relationships that achieve sustainable, long-term impact for young people furthest away from the labour market.

Our four core programmes place a laser-like focus on helping young people secure fulfilling employment and social entrepreneurs grow their business. This in turn helps employers to engage diverse, untapped talent who have the skills and experience they need.

Our programmes

Smart futures
Ten-month programme for young people who have been eligible for free school meals. The programme offers the opportunity to develop employability skills whilst completing a paid two-week work experience placement. Participants work towards a Chartered Management Institute (CMI) Level 2 adult qualification and receive ten months of mentoring support.

“
The programme made me realise how important networking is. It was a bit intimidating at first coming to the building and being in a completely new environment. The whole experience has made me feel much better about meeting new people and entering the world of work.

Accelerate

This programme helps social enterprises to grow and thrive, increasing their impact on local economies and creating social change. We provide in-depth business support and mentoring, with access to skills training from business coaches, workshops, networking and project support. Each social enterprise will receive at least 35 hours of pro bono support over a twelve-month period.

“The training events were valuable, it’s the initiative of the entrepreneur to make the most of the experience. It really is a great programme and all in all a very positive experience.”

93% Of social enterprises increased their turnover since starting on the Accelerate programme

57% Of the organisations attributed their turnover growth to their experience gained whilst on the Accelerate programme
As a company we’re very keen on supporting our local community and pleased that we were able to provide opportunities that these students may have struggled to access without the programme. We feel working with the Our Future programme has been an excellent initiative to be involved in.

“Employers

Central to the way we operate are the employers we work with, who help us build a bridge between young people and business. Increasing numbers of employers are working with us because of the multiple benefits our programmes provide.

Volunteers

The thousands of people who volunteer are an essential part of our growth and are vital to the delivery of our programmes. It is a great way to develop skills, build networks, enjoy new experiences and have a positive impact on young people and entrepreneurs. Volunteering opportunities include being a mentor, facilitating programme delivery and sharing your work story with young people.

- 81% of volunteers believe young people benefitted significantly from the programme.
- 76% of volunteers said their knowledge and experience of the challenges faced by young people improved as a result of their experience.
- 92% of volunteers said they would volunteer with the EY Foundation again.
Working with the young people has given me an opportunity to realise the importance and benefits of having good experiences in the working environment. The confidence and personal development you see in such a short time in these young people is remarkable.

Income generation

Core funding comes from a five-year agreement with EY, but independent income continues to grow. Our increasingly diverse funding mix includes funding from employers, traditional fundraising and new funding partners, such as the Mercers’ Company and the Careers and Enterprise Company.

It is humbling to meet people coming into the Foundation programmes and seeing their lives change for the better as they realise their potential and see the opportunity before them. The Foundation is about changing lives and does exactly that.

Looking to the future

Over the next twelve months – and beyond – we will continue to challenge ourselves to make the biggest possible impact. This includes a commitment to increase support for young people facing multiple barriers to the labour market. Building on the progress made over the past year, we will collaborate across business, public sector and the beyond profit sector to create systemic change.
New activity will include:

- New programme for care experienced young people. Developed through the input of over 70 young people with lived experience, our approach responds to the specific needs of young people facing some of the biggest barriers to securing meaningful employment.

- Launch of a Youth Advisory Board. This group of 17-25 year olds will put the voice of young people at the head and heart of the decision making process in the Foundation.

- With the support of The Mercers’ Company, we will deliver Smart Futures, Our Future and employability workshops in the Borough of Lewisham for the next three years.

- In partnership with Chance UK and Leap Confronting Conflict – supported by a grant from the Paul Hamlyn Foundation – a new collective impact model will get underway to improve outcomes for young people in three English towns.
Thank you!

Everything included in this report has only been possible because of the volunteers, fundraisers, employer partners and other supporters who have worked with us. For those of you who have supported us for the first time, to those who have been with us from the very start, we want to say a huge thank you!
