Volunteering with us

EY Foundation

Thank you for expressing an interest in volunteering with EY Foundation

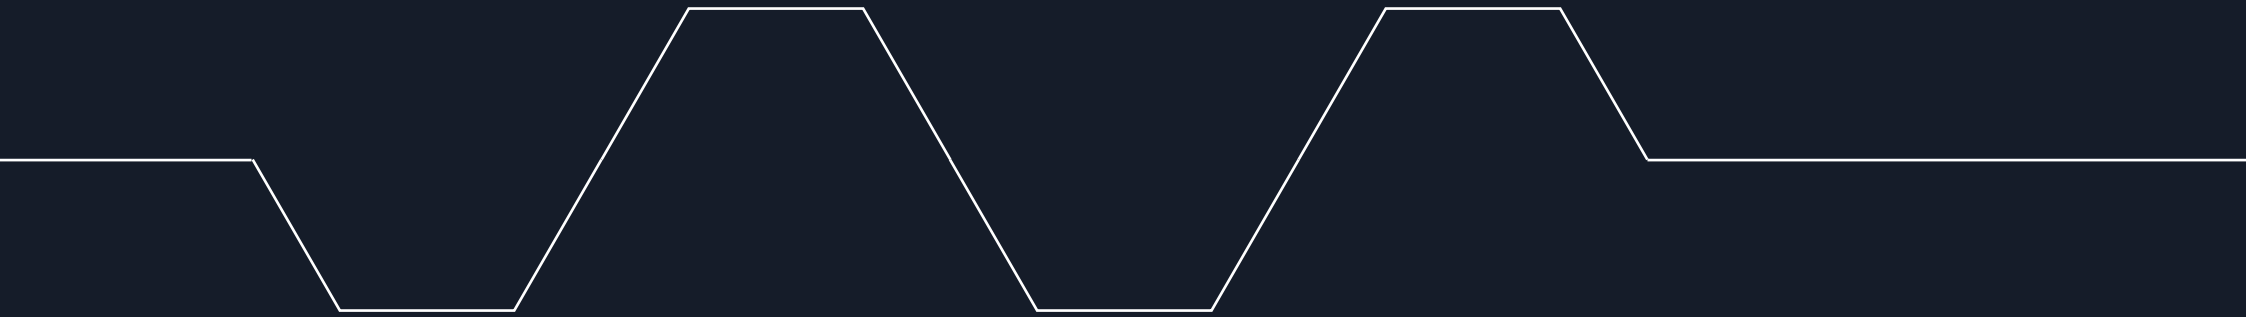

The EY Foundation works with young people, employers and social entrepreneurs. It helps young people from a low income background to realise their career ambitions and transition into work, higher education or self-employment.

We can only do our work with the support of volunteers who offer their time and skills to assist our programmes. Please read on to find out how you can help!

How can I get involved?

We host a number of different programmes at the EY Foundation, each with its own aims and set of outcomes.

Why volunteer with us?

Every young person should feel equipped when entering the workplace. We work alongside young people as well as employers to ensure that both are prepared for this transition. We offer a host of roles that will help develop both your professional and personal skills; from presenting, public speaking to mentoring one of our students. There is something for everyone, based on what you'd like to achieve with us and what your time commitments are.

We believe that your professional and personal life experiences are invaluable when it comes to equipping our students. Volunteering generally gives rise to:

EY | Building a better working world

EY exists to build a better working world, helping to create long-term value for clients, people and society and build trust in the capital markets.

Enabled by data and technology, diverse EY teams in over 150 countries provide trust through assurance and help clients grow, transform and operate.

Working across assurance, consulting, law, strategy, tax and transactions, EY teams ask better questions to find new answers for the complex issues facing our world today.

EY refers to the global organization, and may refer to one or more, of the member firms of Ernst & Young Global Limited, each of which is a separate legal entity.
